windream enriches Digital Office Conference with presentation on Digital Workplace

Bochum. This year, windream GmbH is again involved in the Digital Office Conference as a partner. The online event is organized by Bitkom and will take place from May 5 to 6, 2021. On the first day of the event, Marco Keßler, Business Alliance Manager of windream GmbH, will show from 2.30 p.m. how companies can efficiently manage files and document-supported processes, as well as the special features of the windream ECM-system.

Specifically, the presentation will focus on solutions that organizations can use to keep their business processes running effectively, even during home office hours. "Companies that rely on the 'Digital Workplace' concept have a clear advantage," says Marco Keßler. "At the end of the day, it's all about making all business-relevant information and processes available to users on different devices, regardless of time or location. Here, specialized software modules work together efficiently without users noticing anything."

This increases the productivity of classic office tasks. Users benefit from similar usability on all devices, such as smartphones, tablets and desktop workstations, as well as from improved collaboration. In addition, workflows automate recurring processes. How companies can realize a Digital Workplace with digital document management will be presented by Marco Keßler in his live presentation, using the windream ECM-system.

Participation in the Digital Office Conference is free of charge. Tickets are available at the following link: <https://www.office-conference.com/tickets>
